The University of Southern Queensland acknowledges the First Nations of southern Queensland and their ongoing connection to Country, lands, and waterways. Further, we recognise Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples as the first educators and researchers of Australia. We pay deep respect to Elders past and present.

Professor Geraldine Mackenzie
Vice-Chancellor

The University of Southern Queensland has a proud tradition of engaging with our students to provide a meaningful and transformative educational experience. We leverage a safe and welcoming community to deliver high-quality education through flexible and supportive learning environments. Our aim is for you to learn from passionate and dedicated educators who lead their fields, to connect with industry, and to equip yourself for the workforce of the future.

The University has a bright future, striving continually to innovate and advance our academic programs to ensure the best experiences for our students. We are excited to welcome you to the University of Southern Queensland, and look forward to supporting you to turn ambition into action as we work together to make a difference.

Professor Ren Yi
Pro Vice-Chancellor (International)

As the PVC International, I lead the University of Southern Queensland's International strategy, driving our University to excel in the delivery of international education, and placing international students at the centre of our diverse Australian community. We are ranked by Times Higher Education as a Top 351-400 university worldwide, and we rank 58th in the Young University Rankings. The University of Southern Queensland is a research-intensive university which delivers high-quality and impactful research with our network of global partners. The University of Southern Queensland is constantly striving for excellence; we are recognised as a QS 5-Star university, and a national leader in international student satisfaction and graduate starting salaries.

We will help to inspire you to engage and succeed in your studies, and go on to achieve incredible outcomes in your future endeavours. Build your capabilities and capacity with us while you discover new friends and create amazing memories in Australia. This is your opportunity to be who you always dreamed of being.

My team and I look forward to supporting your educational journey with the University of Southern Queensland.

Bachelor of Aviation

Elevate your career and learn from aviation experts with strong links to industry and employers. Begin your piloting career with the Flight Operations major where you'll take to the skies from your first year and master world-class flight simulators. If you would prefer to be part of the action on the ground, the Aviation Management major will arm you with advanced knowledge in aviation principles and concepts, preparing you for a range of critical roles within the dynamic aviation sector.

After successful completion of flight training, graduates of the Flight Operations major will be issued with their Commercial Pilot Licence by the Australian Civil Aviation Safety Authority.

Connect with Qantas. High-achieving students will have the opportunity to apply to Qantas Group Future Pilot Program and the Qantas Group Pilot Academy.

'My UniSQ experience helped me soar to new heights; not only did I learn from the best, I was able to upskill and use my Graduate Certificate of Aviation to pursue further career opportunities.'

Become uniquely qualified by mixing and matching courses to align with your career goals. You'll benefit from UniSQ's close ties to industry and learn to solve real-world business challenges. Finance graduates can apply for membership with Financial Services Institute of Australasia (FINSIA).

Bachelor of Accounting

Gain technical and professional skills in financial and management accounting, auditing, information technology, taxation, business law, and ethics. Diversify your skill set and tailor your degree to your interests by selecting from a range of majors, electives, and minors. During your degree, you'll work alongside industry partners on real-world issues and complete an industry-based project in your final year.

Master of Business

UniSQ's Master of Business is designed to set you apart. Choose from a range of specialisations, from the traditional pillars of business, such as human resources; to more emergent areas of focus, such as managing cyber risk. Regardless of whether you have just graduated with a bachelor degree, or are an experienced professional with existing business expertise, in the Master of Business you will develop the skills to operate in an increasingly complex and digitised business environment.

Engagement opportunities with industry leaders and organisations.

Bachelor of Early Childhood

Provide the best support and education to young people after developing your knowledge, skills, and values with the Bachelor of Early Childhood. This degree will qualify you to work with children aged newborn through to five years old. After completing 80 days of professional placements, you'll feel confident and ready to step into the workforce. This degree is accredited by the Australian Children's Education & Care Quality Authority (ACECQA). If you are interested in becoming a registered teacher, this degree allows you to transition into the Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood).

Bachelor of Education (Primary)

Are you looking for a degree that gives you flexibility, industry engagement, professional development, expert knowledge, and practice? UniSQ's Bachelor of Education (Primary) is designed to prepare graduates who are confident to teach primary school students in a variety of contexts across all learning areas. In addition to gaining sound knowledge of subject-matter to be able to teach maths, English, health, and science, you'll develop invaluable transferable skills, including collaboration, organisation, adaptability, communication, empathy, and patience.

Bachelor of Education (Secondary)

Our Bachelor of Education (Secondary) is designed to prepare graduates who are confident to teach a diverse range of students from Years 7 to 12, in a variety of contexts. This degree will prepare you to teach into a minimum of two subject areas, with over 20 different teaching areas from which to choose. Having two teaching areas makes you a flexible and desirable educator in the secondary school environment. Our major and minor subject areas have been explicitly aligned with Queensland's new senior course offerings to ensure you gain a competitive edge as you prepare to begin your teaching career.

Associate Degree of Engineering

Our Associate Degree of Engineering will help you get ready to take on any operational environment. Upon graduating you'll be trained in project implementation, operations and maintenance activities, prototype development, and problem-solving. A significant proportion of your degree will involve project-based learning with industry connections, and aligns with the United Nation's sustainable development goals. Be accredited with Engineers Australia, and become an Engineering Associate by applying for a membership after you graduate.

Bachelor of Design and Interactive Technologies

Love movies, and interested in making your own? Want to break into the exciting global film and TV industry? UniSQ's Bachelor of Film and Screen Production prepares you for entry into the contemporary film, television, and media content creation and distribution industries. You will develop high-level professional skills in film direction, producing, camera, sound, lighting, editing, digital composing, post-production, scriptwriting, and visual effects.

+80%

Employment in film and video production has increased by more than 80% in Australia since 2016 (Australian Bureau of Statistics, 2023).

UniSQ Springfield's fully integrated Media Centre provides students with an industry-like learning experience with screen production and radio studios.

UniSQ is rated 5/5 stars for starting salary for communications graduates (Good Universities Guide 2024).

'My favourite thing about studying at UniSQ is the balance of hands-on experience with filmmaking theory. I also enjoy being able to learn course content online before attending on-campus tutorials.'

Bachelor of Construction (Honours)

Construction is one of Australia's fastest-growing industries and should continue to expand. Large infrastructure projects cost millions of dollars and take years to complete, so the need for construction managers to handle project time frames and budget is critical. The Bachelor of Construction (Honours) gives you skills to apply your expertise of engineering solutions to construction problems and work in some of the world's most influential industries. UniSQ offers industry-based practical experience that allows you to put your study into practice.

Master of Construction Management

Enhance your knowledge with digital construction technologies and using industry software applications to create and manage building project information throughout the design, construction, and operation phases. You'll develop comprehensive and practical knowledge of Australian construction codes and practices and gain the skills to oversee all phases of the building process, making sure the project is completed on time and within scope and budget. Learn sustainable development principles in this construction management masters degree by appraising ethical practices, cultural awareness, as well as legal and social risks through positive engagement with the community and stakeholders nationally and globally.

Bachelor of Music

From digital artistic collaborations, through to teaching music lessons online, UniSQ's Bachelor of Music acknowledges that today's musician will be globally connected. The degree teaches contemporary popular music, but also engages technologies, particularly in recording and production, with great attention to developing a sustainable, ongoing practice for graduates.

'The encouragement I've received from the staff at UniSQ has been outstanding. From the beginning, they have supported my passions and allowed me to develop a deeper understanding and appreciation of theatre.'

Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science

Expand your employment opportunities across industries including science, journalism, and policy-making. Boost your capabilities by combining the strong communication skills gained from an arts degree, with the theoretical and practical knowledge of a science degree. You could combine journalism and environment and sustainability studies to become a scientific communicator, or anthropology and human physiology to be able to provide medical insights into human behaviour. Some majors within the Bachelor of Science are professionally accredited, and upon graduation, you can apply for memberships with certain industry bodies. Further study includes the Bachelor of Arts (Honours) and the Bachelor of Science (Honours).

Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws

Gain a competitive edge when applying for jobs as a community lawyer, barrister, or solicitor by combining arts majors such as Criminology, History, or International Relations, with a thorough understanding of the law. Explore criminal law, ethics, professional practice, and legal conflict and resolution. Make valuable contributions to the workplace by developing skills in resourcefulness, critical thinking, reasoning, and reflection.

The Bachelor of Laws is professionally accredited by the Legal Practitioners Admissions Board, Queensland. As a graduate, and with further approved practical legal training, you can be admitted to practise law as a solicitor or barrister in Queensland, or as a legal practitioner elsewhere in Australia.

Bachelor of Business and Bachelor of Information Technology

Become a leader in a technology-driven world by building your knowledge and practical experience across business and IT. Position yourself for success by meeting the increasing demand for digitally savvy employees with a business mindset. The Bachelor of Information Technology is professionally accredited by the Australian Computer Society (ACS) and, through the Seoul Accord, is recognised in other countries. The Human Resource Management major within the Bachelor of Business is professionally accredited by the Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI).

Bachelor of Business and Bachelor of Laws

Gain a powerful combination of skills by studying both business and law. Learn to navigate ethical decision making, enhance your ability to analyse situations, and formulate compelling arguments. Refine your legal skills with UniSQ's moot courts and benefit from courses that include professional experience in law firms, and advocacy and support centres. The Bachelor of Laws is professionally accredited by the Legal Practitioners Admissions Board, Queensland. As a graduate, and with further approved practical legal training, you can be admitted to practise law as a solicitor or barrister in Queensland, or as a legal practitioner elsewhere in Australia. The Human Resource Management major within the Bachelor of Business is professionally accredited by the Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI).

Bachelor of Business and Bachelor of Science

This double degree is the perfect way to blend your curiosity for science with the strategic and creative thinking involved in business. Be equipped to bridge the gap between scientific innovation and the commercial world. You'll benefit from UniSQ's close ties with industry when you undertake professional work experience. Some majors within this degree are professionally accredited, and upon graduation, you may apply for memberships with certain industry bodies.

Save time and money. A double degree gives you two formal qualifications and takes less time than if you were to study the degrees separately.

When you graduate, you'll have two testamurs (official certificates) – one for each of your degrees.

Supercharge your skill set. Build a diverse range of skills that are relevant to a wide range of industries and jobs.

Master of Research

Our Master of Research allows you to develop your research skills, specialist knowledge, and produce original contributions in your chosen field, supported by expert professionals and renowned academics. Expand your critical thinking, applied research and evaluation skills, develop rigorous research design capabilities, and the ability to report and share your research outcomes.

Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)

Our Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) is a research degree available in all Study Areas, and provides you with the skills to become an effective researcher in your previously studied discipline. By undertaking a Doctor of Philosophy, you will have expansive intellectual freedom to be able to make an original and substantial contribution to your area of study. UniSQ is committed to excellence in research training and providing a quality research training experience for our students. We maintain our relevance in research by linking with industry and business through local and international research networks.

Be supported by our Graduate Research School

UniSQ's globally focused Graduate Research School supports all Higher Degree by Research (HDR) training, building a successful learning environment for UniSQ's HDR students. All HDR students have access to diverse facilities and are supervised by UniSQ researchers and partners, in a supportive and rewarding research environment.

Cotutelle PhD program

Be a part of UniSQ's world-leading researchers that help create world-changing results. Our Cotutelle PhD program opens doors to international research candidates and supervisors, allowing for joint supervision and dual PhD awards.

Research flagships

Be part of our global impact

As a research-intensive regional university, we are discovering solutions to build a strong and sustainable future. Key to our research culture is working with industries to understand the problems they face, and collaboratively developing new ideas and technologies to provide innovative solutions. Our research has a real impact, with tangible benefits demonstrated across a wide range of critical challenges, regionally and across the globe.

Our research institutes and centres host unique state-of-the-art facilities. These facilities support a broad spectrum of research degrees across many STEM and social science disciplines. UniSQ's flagships are:

- Agriculture and Environment
including Climate Science, Drought Mitigation and Adaptation, Crop Health, Agricultural Technology and Environmental Science
- Health
including Sport and Exercise Science, Mental, Health and Allied Health
- Regional Development
including Agribusiness, Energy, Sustainable Economic Development, Innovation, Workforce, Community Wellbeing, Climate Variability, Culture and Heritage
- Space and Defence
including Astrophysics, Hypersonics and Rocketry, and Materials Engineering.

The Innovative Launch, Automation, Novel Materials, Communications, and Hypersonics Hub (iLAUNCH) program is a collaboration of regionally based institutions, led by the University of Southern Queensland with The Australian National University, and the University of South Australia.

iLAUNCH brings together over 20 industry organisations to build Australia's sovereign space capability by addressing critical gaps and accelerating development of a space technology sector. With AUD 180 million to invest in industry research, commercialisation, and manufacturing, we are committed to Australia's burgeoning space industry. We will achieve this through growing our commercially viable civil rockets, rocket test and launch facilities, rapid satellite manufacturing, communication technologies, and integrated sensing systems.

The iLAUNCH program is supported by the Australian Government Department of Education through the Trailblazer Universities Program.

The English language and short-term training programs offered by our partner, the Union Institute of Language (UIL), will prepare you for entry into a UniSQ degree.

University of Southern

English for Academic Purposes

Unlock your learning potential with a quality English for Academic Purpose Program (EAP). Students are placed in an appropriate level to suit their current English abilities. Our academics work with students to improve their English proficiency and use a combination of assignments and exams to measure improvements.

English language proficiency

All UniSQ degrees have an English language proficiency requirement, and you must provide evidence of this. Read more about requirements for each degree at unisq.edu.au/degrees

The Union Institute of Language is here to support your English and academic journey through Foundation and Pathway Programs. These programs are designed to help students with the necessary skills to successfully respond to the numeracy, literacy, critical thinking and e-literacy demands of higher education. These are available to help you meet entry requirements for a UniSQ Bachelor degree.
